

Melissa Hofstetter, PhD, MDiv
Licensed Clinical Psychologist (PSY25696)

595 East Colorado Boulevard
Suite 409
Pasadena, California
(626) 437-3866

Starting a private practice: Marketing & Consulting

When: Friday, January 9th, 2-4pm

Where: 595 E. Colorado Blvd., Ste 409
(walking distance from FTS on Madison & Colorado)

For Whom: Advanced PsyD/PhD & MFT students planning ahead for their future independent practices

Why: While graduate school does a great job teaching students to be excellent clinicians, there are many facets to “the business end” of running a private practice that are rarely explicitly taught in academic settings.

Learning Objectives: This seminar aims to introduce the “ins-and-outs” of getting started in private practice, including:

- a) Effective Marketing Strategies
 - Common Marketing Mistakes
 - Online Presence
 - Creating Referral Partnerships
- b) Consulting
 - Identify the Intersection: Your Skill/Community Need
 - Making Your Services a Necessity to Organizations
- c) Establishing Professional Confidence

Presenter: Dr. Hofstetter is an alum of FTS, teaches a semester-long course entitled, “The Future Psychologist” at APU’s Dept. of Graduate Psychology, and has supervised clinical students at FPFS.

RSVP by Jan. 5: dr.hofstetter@gmail.com, 626.437.3866

Fee: $10 (may be waived as necessary)